

Statement from Toni Lardinois, president of the Green Bay Education Association:

“What I'm hoping is that in January ... (Gov. Scott) Walker will look at what he's proposing and will look at what (state Superintendent of Public Instruction) Tony Evers proposed for school reform and funding and will see that maybe if we try that type of school funding reform, that it'll be what's best for all of our schools — not just our schools in Green Bay, but schools throughout the entire state.”
